| 3Mlamp |

The Mlamp suggests a way of presenting a light bulb in its purest form, stripped of the non-essential.

M stands for meter: 3M is 3 meter of iron.

A piece of belting leather, folded and seamed, is shaped into a curve. This curve will provide support for the back and arms. After use, the edges of the curved belting leather will fold down to armrests. The seat is a cushion upholstered by cover&couch using kvadrat fabric. The steel frame encasing this curve and supporting this seat is derived from the design of chair.01.

Age and use will form a patina and will shape chair.02 into a tailored armchair.

The chair.02 is an unlimited serie and comes in a light grey or graphite black powdercoated frame.

| mirror |

A brushed inox steel plate is polished in one circular motion until a mirror appears.

This 'halo' has a sharp reflexion as opposed to the rest of the brushed steel plate, and creates a mirrored circle arising from a metal mist.

Sizes of the steel plate and shapes of the 'halo' may vary.

Iron square tubes are assembled according to the three orthogonal axes.
Wood slides into these connections.

The XZ-axes are connected and form the table surface.
Oak wooden planks form the tabletop.
The Y-axis defines the height of the table.

| litho |

A cylindrical stone encasing a spherical lightbulb. Both the diameter and the height of the stone equal the diameter of the lightbulb. The lightbulb carves its way through the stone pedestal, rotating around the stone. Litho is a moment in this perpetual motion.

The litho is produced in cooperation with Lieven Goetinck and stone carver Peter Vromman.

Litho is produced in series of 20.
For every edition, a different type of stone is carved.

The first series is made of a terrazzo pedestal
The second series is made of a blue stone pedestal
